The Elections Committee has decided to slap the stu-dently in the face and deckle for itself how many votes each candidate will get. It would seem this committee is straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel when it comes to keeping the elec-

Being the "Voice of the Stu-dents," the Universe certainly owes an apology not only to the candidates, but to innocent staff members of the Universe as well as to the Studenthody and University as a whole.

The abuse of the privilege to present an unblased picture of the campaigns is certainly not in keeping with the spirit of good sportunanship displayed

In our estimation, the philosophy of the elections a tem on campus this year is totally false.

Rules, some of them unconstitutional, have been hea upon the candidates, curbing many original efforts wh might be made to get in the eye of the public. Informal has been so restricted that the students have no real cha to learn about the candidates.

WE SINCERELY oppose the present system of pr ing a sheet with a two by two inch picture of a candid with one or two inches of small type proclaiming his p form. A sheet of such pictures and the platforms is the of means students have at the polls to evaluate and choos
